(3) Every Child Protection Institution shall have specialized and well-equipped separate arrangements for the reception of children at risk.

(4) The Child Protection Institution shall not only provide the children at risk with accommodation, treatment, maintenance and facility for education, but also provide him the facility for the development of his character and abilities and give him necessary training for protecting himself against moral dangers or exploitations.

(5) The Child Protection Institution shall perform such other functions as may be prescribed by rules.

(6) In case a Child Protection Institution is found acting in contravention of the provisions of this Act, the rules or the regulations, the Commission may pass such orders as it deems fit for the proper management or maintenance of such institution or its complete disbandment.

(7) No order shall be passed by the Commission under sub-section (6) of this section, unless the management thereof is provided with an opportunity of hearing.

PART-IV
CHILD PROTECTION AND WELFARE FUND

13. Child Protection and Welfare Fund.---(1) The Commission shall establish a Fund to be known as “Child Protection and Welfare Fund”.

(2) The Fund shall consist of grant, donation, endowment and bequest received from any source by the Commission for the care, protection, maintenance, welfare, training, education, rehabilitation and reintegration of children at risk.

14. Audit of the Fund.---(1) The Fund shall be kept, operated, spent and audited in such manner as may be prescribed by rules.

(2) Without prejudice to the requirement of audit by an auditor appointed by Government in accordance with the provisions of any other law for the time being in force, the annual audited statement of accounts of such fund shall be prepared in conformity with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) by a qualified firm of Chartered Accountants and signed by the Chairman of the Commission. The annual audited statement of accounts so prepared shall be submitted to the Provincial Accounts Committee and may also be available to general public as soon as such report is prepared.

PART-V
CHILD PROTECTION COURTS

15. Children Protection Court.--- (1) Government may in consultation with Peshawar High Court, Peshawar by notification in the official Gazette notify different Courts of Sessions as Child Protection Courts under this Act.

(2) The Peshawar High Court, Peshawar may confer powers of the Court for a local area upon a Sessions Judge or an Additional Sessions Judge, as appears to it to be appropriate for the purposes of this Act.

16. Powers and Functions of the Court.---(1) The Court may issue orders in respect of handing over the custody of a child at risk that is brought before him, either to his parents, guardian, a suitable person or a Child Protection Institution, as the case may be.

(2) The Court shall, inform the child at risk of the situation and obtain his views before making an order in respect of his custody and care.

(3) The Court shall, before making an order in respect of protection and care of a child at risk, consider continuity in his upbringing and take into consideration the ethnic, religious, cultural, linguistic background and all other relevant factors in the best interest of the child at risk.

(4) While making the orders under this Chapter, the Court shall prefer keeping the child at risk in parental care, or extended family care, or non-kinship care than placement of a child at risk in a Child Protection Institution.

(5) The Court shall monitor the status of the child at risk through reports submitted by the Child Protection Officers, any officer authorized by the Commission or through requiring the appearance of a child at risk and the person responsible for his custody and care before itself.

(6) The Court shall finally decide a case within four months from the date of production of a child at risk before it. In the event of the expiry of 60 days period before the final decision of the Court, the Court shall communicate, in writing, to the concerned District Judge, the reasons, if any, of the delay.

(7) Appeal against the orders of the Court shall lie to the High Court within thirty days of the judgment.

(8) The High Court may, at any time, either of its own motion or on an application received in this behalf, call for the record of any proceeding in which any Court of Session has passed an order for the purpose of satisfying itself as to the legality or propriety of any such order and may pass such order in relation thereto as it thinks fit, provided that the High Court shall not pass an order under this section prejudicial to any person without giving him a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

17. False, frivolous or vexatious information.---(1) If information in respect of a child at risk has been laid before a Court by any person and the Court after such inquiry as it deems necessary, is of the opinion that such information is false, frivolous or vexatious, the Court may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, direct that compensation, not exceeding one hundred thousand rupees, be paid by such informer to the aggrieved person against whom the information was laid.

(2) Before making any order for payment of compensation, the Court shall call upon the informer to show-cause why he should not pay compensation.

(3) The Court may, by its order directing payment of compensation, further order that in case of default, the person held liable for compensation shall suffer simple imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year.

(4) When an order for payment of compensation is made under sub-section (1), the compensation shall not be paid before the expiry of one month in order to allow sufficient time to appeal against such order.

18. Transfer of cases in the interest of justice.---Whenever it appears to the Court while dealing with a matter under this Act that:

- (a) a fair and impartial trial cannot be held by it or holding trial will cause inconvenience to the parties or witnesses; or
- (b) trial by some other Court or at some other place is expedient for the ends of justice and is in the best interest of child, the Court shall report the matter to the concerned High Court or the District Judge, as the case may be, for transfer of the case to another Court after hearing the parties.

PART-VI
RESCUE, CARE, PROTECTION AND REHABILITATION OF CHILDREN AT RISK

19. Initiation of proceedings.---(1) Proceedings under this part of the Act can only be initiated in respect of a child at risk who has not attained the age of eighteen years notwithstanding that during the course of such proceedings he may have attained the age of eighteen years.

(2) In case of any dispute as to the age of a child at risk, the Court shall decide the same in the first instance based on the medical report of the Medical Superintendent of the district concerned whose advice about the age of the child at risk shall be final for the purposes of this Act.

20. Rescue of child at risk.---Subject to section 19, a Child Protection Officer upon information or complaint, may take into protection a child at risk and shall produce him before the Court within twenty-four hours of taking the child at risk into such protection:

Provided that where a child at risk is in the protection of his parent or guardian, the officer shall not take him into protection but shall in the first instance, make a report to the Court:

Provided further that the first proviso shall not be applicable in case of a child at risk, who is found begging or he is a victim of an offence alleged to have been committed by his parents or guardian.

21. Court may direct production of child at risk by parents or guardian.---(1) The Court to which a report is made under the first proviso to section 20, may call upon such parent or guardian to produce the child at risk before it and show cause as to why the child at risk should not, during the pendency of the proceedings, be removed from his protection and may order that the child at risk to be admitted in a Child Protection Institution, or on suitable surety being offered for the safety of child at risk and for his being brought before it, permit the child at risk to remain in the protection of his parents or guardian.

(2) Where it appears to the Court that the child at risk is likely to be removed from the jurisdiction of the Court or is concealed, it may issue a search warrant for the production of the child at risk, and order his immediate admission to a Child Protection Institution.

22. Examination of person producing or reporting.---(1) The Court before which a child at risk is brought under section 20 or is produced under section 27, shall examine on oath the person who has brought the child at risk or made the report and record the substance of such examination and may order the admission of the child at risk to a Child Protection Institution pending any further inquiry, if any.

(2) On the date fixed for the production of the child at risk for the inquiry or on any subsequent date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the Court shall hear and record substance of evidence which may be adduced and consider any cause which may be shown rendering admission of a child at risk necessary to Child Protection Institute.

23. Reports to be treated as confidential.---Any reports pertaining to the child at risk shall be treated as confidential from the initiation of proceeding up to disposal of case but the substance of that report shall be open to the child at risk, his parents, guardian or extended family member or other parties concerned.

24. Prohibition of publication of names, etc., of child at risk involved in any proceeding under this Act.---(1) No report in any newspaper, magazine or news sheet of any assessment regarding a child at risk under this Act shall disclose the name, address or school or any other particulars, which lead to the identification of the child at risk nor shall any picture of the child at risk be published:

Provided that for reasons to be recorded in writing, the authority holding the assessment may permit such disclosure, if in its opinion such disclosure is in the interest of the child at risk.

(2) Any person contravening the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be punished with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees.

25. Entrustment of protection of a child at risk.---(1) If the Court is satisfied that the child at risk brought before it, is in need of protection and that it is expedient to deal with him, the Court may order that he be admitted to a Child Protection Institution or his protection be entrusted to a suitable person, who is able and willing to look after the child at risk, until such child at risk attains the age of eighteen years, or in exceptional cases for a shorter period.

(2) The Court which makes an order for entrusting a child at risk in the custody of a suitable person may, when making such an order, require such person to execute a bond with or without sureties and an undertaking that makes him liable for the protection, of the child at risk and for the observance of such other conditions as the Court may impose for ensuring the welfare of the child at risk.

(3) The Court that makes an order for entrusting a child at risk to a suitable person may order him for submission of periodical reports of welfare of the child at risk to the Court through Child Protection Officer.

(4) The Court may from time to time during the protective care of a child at risk, compel the production of child at risk in the Court to satisfy itself that the conditions of such protection are being carried out.

(5) If at any time it appears to the Court from information received from any source that there has been a breach of any condition contained in the bond, it may, after making such inquiry as it deems fit, order the child at risk to be admitted into a Child Protection Institution or be entrusted to the protective care of any other suitable person.

26. Sending of child at risk having place of residence outside jurisdiction.---(1) In the case of a child at risk whose ordinary place of residence is not within the jurisdiction of Court, the Court may direct that the child at risk be kept in such protective care and be produced before a Court having territorial jurisdiction over the place of residence of the child at risk or to deal with his protective care in any other manner provided in this Act.

(2) Where a child at risk is produced before a Court on the direction of any other Court given under the foregoing provision of this section, such Court may regulate the protection of the child at risk as if the child at risk has been produced before it in terms of section 19 of this Act.

27. Warrant to search for a child at risk.---(1) If it appear to a Court from information received on oath or solemn affirmation laid by any person who, in the opinion of the Court, is acting in the interest of the child at risk that there are reasons to believe that a child at risk needs immediate protection, the Court may issue warrant for the production of the child at risk before it.

(2) The officer executing the warrant shall be accompanied by the person laying the information, if such person so desires and may also, if the Court, by whom the warrant is issued so directs, be accompanied by a duly qualified medical practitioner or the police or both.

(3) If any child at risk is brought before the Court and the Court is satisfied that the child at risk is in need of protection, it may deal with his protective care in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

28. Period of protective care.---Subject to any order of the Court or any direction of the Commission, a child at risk ordered to be admitted to a Child Protection Institution shall be kept in the Child Protection Institution till he attains the age of eighteen years.

29. Contribution of parents.---(1) Where an order has been made for the admission of a child at risk into a Child Protection Institution or giving the protection of the child at risk to a suitable person, the Court may direct a parent, in a suitable case, to pay maintenance of the child at risk at such rates as may be determined by the Court:

Provided that while passing any such order, the Court shall take into consideration the capacity of the parents to pay maintenance.

(2) In case of non-compliance of direction for the payment of maintenance issued under subsection (1), the Court may recover the amount from the parent as arrears of land revenue.

30. Protection of child against child marriage.---Protection against child marriage and discriminatory customary practices shall be provided in accordance with federal laws in vogue on the subjects.

PART-VII SENTENCING OF CHILD

31. Sentencing in respect of a child above the age of twelve and below the age of fifteen.---(1) A child above the age of twelve and below the age of fifteen, when convicted may be:

- (i) ordered to perform a community service, through probation officer, if the offender is above the age of fourteen, up to the half of the imprisonment prescribed for the offence; or
